Horrid Thing

Some horrid person has said that the first broadcasting station was made of rib. A woman stated she didn't care for her physician. "I told him I was simply all tired out, that every time I tried to do anything, I was simply so tired it seemed as though I couldn't do a thing, and all that horrid doctor said was, 'Let me see your tongue.'"

Crumbling to a Fall

San Bernardino County's official buildings, built so many years ago that the minds of man runneth not that far back, are crumbling to a fall, and although we delight to refer to this county as the great Imperial County of San Bernardino, our official buildings are anything but imperial. Grand juries over a period of years have been recommending new county buildings until the recommendation is almost so stereotyped that no one takes the idea seriously. A short time ago the people outside of San Bernardino city, where the county buildings are located, voted money for a Hall of Records, but the voters of the Gate City turned it down so hard that the issue was lost.

San Bernardino men now state they believe their people are ready to vote bonds for a new site and for new buildings, and if voters in the other districts of the county will favor the issue a new location with new and modern buildings which we will all be proud of can be erected.

If the west end should vote against the issue it would not be surprising for, strange as it may seem, the majority of our people are not particularly interested in the county seat. We go to San Bernardino, taken as a whole, to either be found guilty or not guilty; we go there to pay our taxes and kick about the excessive cost; we go to the Gate City to get a divorce, a marriage license or serve a jail term, and otherwise we go anywhere but to our county seat.

For Redlands, Highland, Fontana, Rialto, Colton and Bloomington, San Bernardino is a natural center and the people of those districts are probably more ashamed of the county buildings on Court Street than we are because they see them often. But the West End is a part of the county and if the county's buildings are a reflection on the county, the reflection is equally cast on the West End.

Those county buildings have been rebuilt and patched until more rebuilding and patching is a waste of money. The proposed bond issue is to be put before the voters on May 6th and before voting against the issue, just visit your county buildings and you will decide that it is time a change was made.

Says Samuel Bryan

Recently we received a letter from our genial friend "Bill" Bryan of Camp Baldy, in which he stated that he had just received a letter from his son, Samuel Bryan, of Madison, Wis., giving in verse his opinion of the political situation at this time. Evidently verse runs in the Bryan family, for Samuel Bryan verses his opinion as follows:

Silent Cal is a bear for luck,
He watches while the others duck
The splattering oil and flying mud,
He gazes gravely at the dud
The oil committee meant for his,
And says, "Speed up the nation's biz."

The taxes need reducing, boys,
So put away your noisy toys.
I'll see the Fall guys on their way
Behind the bars—you need not stay

The country's progress just to roam
The bright lights of the Teapot Dome.
I'll take the gaff—I'm here to do it—
I've courage, boys, to see me through it.

So leave the grafters all to me
And watch your job and do it well.
For in the end you may agree
That your inaction has raised Hell."

Fire prevention week, set aside by President Coolidge for April 21 to 27, is being observed in both the city and county schools. Illustrated pictures showing the necessity of reducing mountain fire hazards and messages from prominent advocates of conservation have been furnished to teachers throughout the county.

UPLAND LEMON GROWERS' ASS'N HAS EIGHT HUNDRED CARS OF LEMONS
STILL TO GO. UTILIZING BOTH
DRY AND COLD STORAGE
PLANTS IN CHICAGO

With from 160 to 175 cars of oranges and 30 cars of lemons going forward each week from the O. K. district and with 2000 people employed in the citrus industry, picking, packing and shipping departments, Upland is today in the peak of the season.

One of the most interesting features of this season is an experiment undertaken by the directors of the Upland Lemon Growers Association. Recently the board adopted the idea of storing lemons in Chicago, both in dry storage and cold storage, that the fruit might be on the ground to fill the demand and at the same time relieve conditions here. Nine cars have already gone forward for storage with still more to follow. The outcome of the experiment launched by local men is being watched with interest by fruit men.

L. R. Bradley, manager of the Lemon Growers Association stated this morning that commencing next week the association will be shipping ten cars of lemons each day. Eight from the two Upland plants and two from the storage house in Ontario where ninety cars have been stored.

The Lemon Growers Association has in the neighborhood of eight hundred cars of fruit to go forward and Manager Bradley states that it looks like an average of $1000 a car, at least he hopes for that.

Present indications are that the hoof and mouth disease will not interfere with the shipment of citrus fruit to the Eastern markets, although Oregon and Washington placed an embargo on fruit, Washington later removing some features of the embargo.

LOCAL MEN MAKE COUNTING DEVICE

The new automatic grade counting device in use at the Old Baldy Citrus Association's Packing House at Upland is attracting wide-spread attention throughout the citrus industry.

Under the new plan of paying the grower for his fruit by actual grade, rather than by gross tonnage, it is desirable to have an accurate count of the number of oranges or lemons of each grade received from the individual grower. In order to stimulate interest in perfecting a machine that would do this work accurately, the association offered a handsome cash bonus, which resulted in two of the employees, Harry Cook and Maurice E. Reynolds, perfecting the new automatic counter.

In operation this automatic counting device counts each orange or lemon as it drops into the proper size bin. These totals are electrically recorded on a totalling machine at the head of the grader and also in the manager's office. As the fruit from the different groves is received the machine is set to zero, and a complete accurate tally kept of the grading of each grower's fruit.

It is expected that this device, which has been favorably considered by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, will do much to aid in equitably arriving at a grower's cash return on his crop. The managers of a number of packing houses have visited Upland, and it is planned at an early date to have a reception for packing house managers and afford all

REV. H. L. SMITH DIES OF SMALLPOX

Upland people will be grieved to hear of the death of the Rev. H. L. Smith, son-in-law of Bishop and Mrs. C. C. Burkholder of First avenue, who received a cablegram yesterday from their daughter announcing the death of her husband from smallpox at Saharsa, Bhagalpur district, India.

The news was a shock to the family as letters which have come regularly, while mentioning the plague in that part of India, always spoke of the Smith family as being in good health.

Elder Smith and his wife and family were on an 18 months furlough two years ago and most of their vacation was spent in Upland where they renewed the friendship of earlier years with many people. They have been in the mission field for eleven years.

Mr. Smith was about 35 years of age, and beside a widow, formerly Katie Burkholder, he leaves a daughter Leoda, nine years old and a son Joseph six years.

Memorial services will be held in the Brethren in Christ Church on Third avenue when more definite notice has been received by relatives here.

Interested an opportunity to see this attachment in operation.

BIG REGISTRATION BRINGS PRAISE

County Clerk Harry L. Allison's registering 48 per cent more voters for the 1924 May Presidential primaries than were registered for the primaries in 1920, yesterday brought a letter of congratulation from Lieut.-Gov. C. C. Young.

The letter, in part, follows:

"I have received from the secretary of state the report for registration in San Bernardino County up to April 5. I note that by that report you show over 48 per cent greater registration than at the corresponding date in 1920. I want to congratulate you on this show, for I realize that in a year like this, when interest in things political is not at a high pitch, the good results you show are chiefly due to hard and intelligent work by your own office."

"I was especially pleased with the results in your county, for as one who is extremely interested in our primary laws, I believe that their ultimate success depends upon the extent to which voters register for elections and take part in them."

W. McHENRY BUYS 2ND AVE. FRONTAGE

A deal has just been closed by which Wm. McHenry, of McHenry's Billiard and Pool Hall, has purchased of Geo. Bunker 44-foot frontage on Second Avenue, just north of the alley above the Upland Police Headquarters.

Mr. McHenry recently purchased the Klindt Building, occupied by the Henry Klindt Grocery, the Mowers Barber Shop and the McHenry Billiard Parlor. This latest addition to his holdings gives to Mr. McHenry 160 foot frontage on Second Avenue south of Ninth. At the present time the newly acquired property is occupied by Clark's Greater Show Company, there being no permanent buildings on the lots. At one time Roy Creighton conducted a garage there, but the building was destroyed in the fire which swept all the buildings from the Duncan Building adjoining the new police headquarters north to The Upland News plant.

Within a year Mr. McHenry expects to have a building on his property, as he is ready to build to suit a tenant. Mr. McHenry has extensive business property interests in Fillmore and believes thoroughly in keeping business property very busy.

REXALL MEN IN UPLAND TO-DAY

Bert Gutcher, manager of the Pacific Coast branch of the United Drug Company, of San Francisco, and Reid O. Crane, representative of the United Drug Company in this district and star salesman of the United States, visited Mae the Medicine Man here today. Mae showed them over his new store, then over the town, after which his guests left for Riverside.

The Rexall Convention is to be held April 30th and May 1st at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles, at which time Rexall dealers will assemble from Arizona, Nevada as well as all California points. Mr. MacQuillen, whose soda fountain here has been an unusual success, is to speak on the subject, "How to Make a Soda Fountain an Asset to your Business."

"What is your job?"
"I'm a press agent."
"What do you do?"
"I collect clothes for a pressing establishment."

BURIED TREASURE UNEARTHED NEAR CAMP BALDY

Hands of time were turned back to the days of '49 Wednesday.

Shades of the old pioneer, the hardy gold seeker and the soldier of fortune passed silently along the highway skirting the base of Old Baldy mountain.

Recollections of the old days of romance and struggle in the settling of California were awakened by finding "hidden treasure" buried far under the ground years ago by pioneers who saw the great west end as an unpopulated region, overrun with tangled underbrush.

Found by Camper
The find was made by J. C. Morse of Long Beach and opened by Forest Ranger A. T. Shay and Patrolman S. H. Jacobs.

Mr. Morse owns a lot in the cave halfway between the ranger station and the Camp Baldy Hotel. Recently he applied to the forest service for a right-of-way for a road leading to his lot from the main highway.

It was while constructing this bit of road that his workmen came upon the buried treasure. A large box was found, deep under the soil.

Not wishing to destroy the box, Mr. Morse reported the find to the ranger station officer, Ranger Shay and Patrolman Jacobs dug out the treasure.

Mysteriously and by the many years of hiding from air and sunlight, the box was carefully raised to the surface of the ground and torn open.

261 Quarts of It
The box was 14 1/2 feet in dimension and 3 feet deep. It contained 261 quart bottles, mostly filled with wine, some with whiskey and some with brandy.

This bottled "treasure," which could probably tell many stories of early days; of hardships and trouble in getting to the spot where it was found; of discordant singing and furtive fighting, was broken on the rocks, and the old cache destroyed by the officers.

Buried Years Ago
According to old-timers living in the neighborhood of the cache, the cove was used years ago by miners and campers as a camping and resting ground. Leaving the valley before roads were built, they made this spot in a day's travel, remained over night and continued their journey to Baldy and the mines the next day.

Three years ago government workmen, while clearing a part of this locality, uncovered a big cache of provisions, mostly canned goods. Some of the cans had been hiding for such a length of time that even the metal containers had decomposed.

Tinned Goods, Too

This is the second find of the remnants of the old days when prohibition was not so popular. A. W. Pruitt, construction foreman for the forest service, two years ago, while cleaning up the present camp ground in Icehouse Canyon, cleared away an old miner's shack and corral to make room for more modern improvements.

A miner's cache in the ground was uncovered.

It contained a large quantity of provisions and a case of Old Tavor whiskey.

This, no doubt, had been buried about 40 years, and had been stored by the miner for future use.

Vacation dates for the two departments of the superior court have been chosen. Superior Judge Jesse Olney will take his annual vacation from July 15 to Aug. 15, and Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner's court will be closed from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15. This will be Judge Warner's first vacation in two years, he having remained on the bench last year during the illness of the late Judge Frank B. Daley.

KIDNAPPING CASE IS POSTPONED

By request of Constable A. B. Chambers of Pomona the preliminary hearing of C. J. R. E. and T. H. Scott and A. L. Bloomfield, charged by Bill Askew with illegal detention, was postponed from Tuesday to May 6. The constable stated that he desired to subpoena more witnesses for the state in the case and that the state was not ready to have the hearing. Judge U. E. White promptly granted the request.

The police court room was filled to capacity when the kidnapping case was called at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and many spectators seemed disappointed when it was postponed.

The defendants are accused of having seized Askew at his home in Pomona and after binding him, taking him to a cabin near Camp Baldy, where, at the point of a gun, he was compelled to give them a check for $45 and sign a confession that he secured the money in a game of poker with C. J. Scott. It is stated that Askew stopped payment on the check at the bank.

Had the case been heard Tuesday it was the intention of the defendants, it was stated, to make a hot fight for dismissal. They were represented by Attorney Bert L. Cooper.

They allege that C. J. Scott sold his home for $750 and that before he could get home to his wife and children with the money—representing all his worldly wealth—he was accosted and invited to a game of poker while in Pomona. They also alleged that before Askew and "Lefty" McMorran invited Scott to play they loaded him with booze, thus robbing him of his better judgment. Then, they allege, their brother was alone with them at the home of Askew and in a condition which rendered him unable to cope with them in any kind of a game. They also state that when they applied at the police court for a warrant for the arrest of Askew and McMorran, the warrant was issued with instructions that if they could recover the lost money without serving it to do so.

It is understood the men will not deny they took the money from Askew and later obtained about $400 of the cash from McMorran. But they will deny they used the means alleged to recover the money.

UPLAND'S FIRST EFFORT IN WATER DEVELOPMENT CROWNED WITH SUCCESS. DRILLERS STRIKE FLUID ON PROPERTY PUR- CHASED OF NISBET

City of Upland yesterday brought in its first water well on the property purchased by the city recently of T. W. Nisbet in the neighborhood of Twenty-third street west of Mountain avenue.

At a depth of 250 feet contractors obtained the first signs of water and present indications are that the city has a most valuable well. The capacity of the well will not be known for several days.

Not many months ago ex-Mayor Frank Buffington said to the city council, "Upland must launch an effort toward water development if the city is to prosper and grow as it should."

Proceeding along that line water bonds were voted by the people of the city and the water rights and distributing systems of the Citizens Land & Water Company and the Ocean View Land & Water Company were purchased. Those having water bearing land were asked to present their propositions to the city and before purchasing City Engineer Manley, Consulting Engineer Geo. Hinekey, members of the city council and city officials went over all the acreages presented.

Location of the well on the property purchased of Mr. Nisbet was the combination of expert advice from Consulting Engineer Hinekey as well as the indications from two water witches.

Water witches are not considered seriously by many, but a water witch in the hands of Earl Johnson a high school boy of Covina, indicated water at the particular point where the first development of the city was started. After Johnson had completed his findings and members of the council had taken him over several pipe lines carrying water to see if the witch really worked, Consulting Engineer Hinekey brought over another witch and both of the little instruments agreed.

Last Monday night councilmen were discouraged in their efforts for water but Engineer Hinekey assured them they would get water within a few days. Yesterday a blast was set and immediately water flowed in.

The witch used by Johnson is made of copper wire in the shape of a letter P. Holding the witch with the stem of the P pointing out from his body Johnson traveled over the acreage and at times the stem would show a decided downward trend. This indicated water and at the point where the well was sunk the stem showed a tendency downward.

INDIAN VILLAGE ON CHAFFEY CAMPUS

Are you interested in the purchase of an Indian village to be used for the pleasure of your children? The Indian village is not for sale, but some very good ideas about how one should look, wild Indians and all, can be gained by seeing Mr. S. Earle Blakeslee's Indian Opera, "The Legend of Wiyawaste" tonight or tomorrow night at Chaffey Union High School at 8:15.

This Opera depicts the Indians in the savage roles, dances, buffalo hunts, villages, and surroundings which characterized them before they were forced to abandon their practices, customs, and costumes for those of the white man.

This musical entertainment will, without any doubt, be the best one given this year.

HOME FROM THE EAST

"Welcome Home" is the salutation given to Allan Barr and his bride, who returned from the east Wednesday.

Returning to his work in the First National Bank this morning Mr. Barr found his cashier's cage all dolled up with flowers, with wedding bells and white ribbon and as his friends came into the bank they extended him a hearty welcome.

Following the wedding which was held in Lynelberg, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Barr left on an eastern trip and spent several days in New York before returning here. They will make their temporary residence in the Koster Kourt.

CONTENT AND RICH

My conscience is my crown;
Contented thoughts, my rest;
My heart is happy in itself,
My bliss is in my breast.

Enough I reckon wealth;
That mean, the surest lot,
That lies too high for base content,
Too low for envy's shot.

My wishes are but few;
All easy to fulfill;
I make the limits of my power
The bounds unto my will.

I fear no care for gold,
Well-doing is my wealth;
My mind to me an empire is,
While grace affordeth health.

I clip high-climbing thoughts,
The wings of swelling pride;
Their fall is worst that from the height
Of greatest honor slide.

Since sails of largest size
The storm doth soonest tear,
I bear so low and small a sail
As freeth me from fear.

I wrestle not with rage,
While fury's flame doth burn;
It is in vain to stop the stream
Until the tide doth turn.

But when the flame is out,
And ebbing wrath doth end,
I turn a late enraged foe
Into a quiet friend.

And, taught with often proof,
A tempered calm I find
To be most solace to itself,
Best cure for angry mind.

Spare diet is my fare,
My clothes more fit than fine;
I know I feed and clothe a foe,
That pampered would repine.

I envy not their hap
Whom favor doth advance;
I take no pleasure in their pain
That have less happy chance.

To rise by others' fall
I deem a losing gain;
All states with others' ruin built
To ruin run again.

No change of Fortune's calm
Can cast my comforts down;
When Fortune smiles, I smile to think
How quickly she will frown.

And when, in froward mood,
She proved an angry foe,
Small gain, I found, to let her come—
Less loss to let her go.

SUNFLOWER

Sunflower, pearly and hold,
Rounding thyself to the sun,
Up from the shadowy mould
Flaunting thy challenging gold,
Till the long day is done.

Broadly thy petals unfold,
Shewn by the sunlight spun;
There is none like thee, none,
Sunflower!

Fair is the lily, but cold;
Roses, I know of old;
Quickly their race is run,
Soon is their story told;
Thou art a harder one,
Sunflower!

SYRINX

Where the meadow grasses swayed,
There you stood a nymph afraid
Of the love that Pan had brought you

When he followed—when he sought you;
Tall and lissom, lithe and slim
As a reed you seemed to him.

Tremulous awhile you stood
In the shadow of the wood;
Then you turned and lightly ran
From the questing arms of Pan;
Swift as summer wings you fled;
After, after you he sped.

Till the great gods from a height
Saw your panic and your plight;
Saw you stand beside the river,
Eyes affrighted, limbs a-quiver,
In your lissom loveliness,
And they pitied your distress;

Saw your terror and your need,
And turned you to a river reed;
There you swayed, and Pan down
stooped,

Plucked a stem that rocked and drooped,
There among the fragrant dew,
He made a luring song of you.

Whispered music by the rill,
A song to make the woodlands
thrill,
Still you murmur soft and low
As the summer breezes blow;
Still the little streams rejoice
When they hear your rippled voice

Spring Cleaning In Your Back Yard

STREET Superintendent R. G. Manley has not made any official announcement yet for the destruction of weeds and the "cleaning-up" day that Upland has every year, but as the last rains and summer-like weather of the past week have started all green things growing, The News takes this opportunity of calling the attention of the residents and property owners of the City of Upland to the fact that a little weed hoeing done every day will lessen the amount of work to be done when Mr. Manley issues his spring edict.

One's back yard is nearly always an indication of the temperaments of the people who live in the house which opens upon this scene of order or disorder. It is difficult to smile and feel "clean inside" as a little girl once expressed it, when one steps from one's kitchen into an unkempt yard, littered with cans, sacks, old boxes and rubbish of all kinds, but who can help feeling brisk and cheery when one sees a clean yard, with vegetables or flowers, a shade tree or two, and a tidy chicken yard with old hens and little chicks scratching in enjoyment the clean straw or grass cuttings, hunting for a tit-bit.

Environment may not mean everything, but is certainly means a whole lot, and its effect should be well considered. Start in now to give attention to the back yards—some how the front gardens always get more attention. Is it because they are more generally noticed? Start in now, and when the Upland Street Superintendent says his annual speech on the cleaning up of back yards and alleys, hey! presto! there will be little left to do.

The "Big Brother" Movement

AN occasional inconspicuous item in a newspaper tells of the interest manifested in some community in the "Big Brother" movement, which means the pledging, quite informally, of a number of men, young or old, each to take a friendly but unofficial part in reclaiming or restoring some boy whose home training and surroundings have not given him a proper start. A recent item from Minneapolis, Minn., told of the enlistment of 185 active "Big Brothers" in that city. Perhaps the number, while comparatively large, should have been many times greater. The secretary of the Minneapolis branch of the organization is authority for the statement that 80 per cent of the boys who come in contact with the brotherhood's activities are what are referred to as predelinquents.

One could hardly imagine a richer field for properly directed brotherly effort. In every city of the world there are, no doubt, hundreds or thousands of these unfortunate boys whose activities and ambitions need wise direction. They need someone to whom they can give their confidences, someone who can explain away their fears and remove the belief in limitations due to heredity or environment. One hundred and eighty-five men can do much in a city like Minneapolis, but two or three times the number of men, properly equipped, could do more.

That more men are not active in such work as this is due, no doubt, to the fact that many who are fitted for such activity do not realize that fact, and that they do not appreciate the need. Nothing, in the language of the business man, pays a greater dividend. There is a quick responsiveness in the consciousness of a boy, even if that boy is a delinquent. There is a thin but not impervious armor which must be pierced, but the process is not difficult. The right man can gain a boy's confidence quickly. He can lose it just as quickly. But failure should not be suggested. The delinquent boy is often condemned because of no inherent fault. He has erred, perhaps, because he has sought activity along the only line which seemed to him to be open.

The dividends promised will not materialize in the form of dollars in the pockets of the "Big Brothers." That is not the promise. But can anyone imagine greater satisfaction than that realized in the knowledge that one young boy has been redeemed from moral delinquency and made a self-respecting and law-abiding member of society by the timely extending of brotherly help? Love has unnumbered ways in which to reclaim and restore the fallen. Perhaps it finds its fullest exemplification in the expression of brotherly love.

New Industries Bring Civic Successes

VERY few people are inclined to give just consideration to the real benefits which accrue from the addition of new industries to any city. It is not merely the opening of another new business which means so much but it the resultant effect which is brought about.

Any new business which is opened in a town must necessarily bring a certain quota of new residents. These new residents will in turn demand suitable homes in which to live, and, since there is always a dearth of rentable property in the thriving cities of California this demand will necessitate the building of new residences and the opening of additional subdivisions.

Each new family will spend a certain percentage of money earned, and this money will be paid to the local business houses nine times out of ten. A circulation of money means a lively business center and nothing encourages the growth and progress so much as a busy and thriving down-town atmosphere.

The new industries increase the railroad freight shipments and this brings about a demand for additional help in the railroads. One demand creates another and as has often been said the world moves in a circle. The old-timers formerly said "one hand washes the other" meaning that a reciprocal feeling exists under such an arrangement.

Knowing that the increasing of the town's industries and businesses brings about such a mutual benefit for all persons concerned it would seem that every established concern would work indefatigably to bring about the location of more big businesses if the town is at all suitable to them, and their prosperity. Always it is better to consider that factor as it is useless to encourage the launching of any enterprise which is not thoroughly in accord with the needs and demand of that particular place. Better not to have the additional businesses rather than encourage them only to have them eventually fizzle out.

HIS MEMORY'S FAILING

Everybody in the village knew Rastus Johnson and everybody talked to him.

He was working one day for a member of the Ladies' Aid Society, and as he was about to go home she said, pleasantly:

"I hear, Rastus, that you've seen the time when President Washington was in office. Is that true?"

Rastus rolled the white of his eyes and smiled a sad but reminiscent smile.

"Well," he said, "ah used to seed it, but dat was befo' prohibition went into effect."—Los Angeles Times.

ROPER Gas Ranges with Complete Oven Control

Carpe Diem

This old Roman expression is just as forceful today as it ever was. Carpe Diem—enjoy the present day—live NOW.

Those who are merely existing, putting off enjoying life for a golden tomorrow, usually find that the "tomorrow" never comes.

Don't drudge like your mother or grandmother, in the kitchen. They had to, because modern cooking appliances were not invented.

But you haven't that excuse. A Roper Gas Range with Complete Oven Control will do the cooking while you are out enjoying yourself. It saves gas too.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN CARELESSNES

California, with a record of 2,240 forest fires that burned over 942,565 acres, was the worst fire state in the Union in 1923. Seventy per cent of these fires were man-caused and could have been prevented.

Our citizens, accustomed to the thrill of leadership, bow in shame when these facts are recorded.

Help Prevent Forest Fires

Our forests should be cherished for three reasons:

1. Their natural scenic beauty.
2. Their timber supply.
3. Their aid in water conservation.

Burned forests build no homes.

Leave a clean camp and a dead fire.

One tree will make a million matches.

One match may destroy a million trees.

WOMAN'S CLUBS HEAR LECTURE ON THE STARS

"A Pinhole Peep at Mount Wilson Observatory" was the title Miss Ada Margaret Brayton gave to her interesting talk last Tuesday evening, when before an audience of over one hundred members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club, and their friends, she told of the marvels of the heavens as seen through the telescopes from Mount Wilson Observatory. The address was illustrated with lantern slides, and Miss Brayton gave a clear explanation of each picture, dropping all astronomical and chemical terms and speaking in every day language.

The first picture showed the offices of the workers in Pasadena, and then came an aeroplane view of the Observatory. Miss Brayton pointing out the various towers and domes of the buildings. A close view of the 150 foot tower for sun observation, and direct pictures of the sun next were shown and an interesting table giving the names of the 19 nearest stars. "Near in a comparative way" said Miss Brayton, "It takes 8 years for instance, for the light from the star Sirius to reach this world."

The snow scenes on Mount Wilson were beautiful, and many of the audience made plans immediately to visit Mt. Wilson after the next snow storm. Slides of the Moon showing distinctly the craters and ridges of the mountains, one of them 50 miles across and two miles deep proved interesting and views of Saturn, Mars, and the Milky Way were shown with explanatory notes from the speaker. The last picture was a night view of Pasadena with its thousands of twinkling lights, almost equalling the starry heavens in number.

Miss Brayton who is a computer at the Observatory gave a short history of it from its start in 1904 when just six people were connected with the work, and her entire address was very pleasing to everyone in the audience. She was introduced by the president Mrs. George L. Winter, who presided over the evening's program.

Two songs "O Sole Mio" and "The Rosary" were sung by Miss Mary Campbell of the Eagan School of Music in Los Angeles, and her voice proved delightful to listen to and admirably suited to the two solos she gave. Another musical treat was some violin selections by Miss Marion Short accompanied on the piano by Miss Esther Anderson.

Miss Helen Fiske of the vocational placement bureau of the City of Pasadena was introduced by Miss Lela Blair, chairman of the vocational guidance work in the local Business and Professional Woman's Club, and told of her work in the Crown City. The object of the Bureau is to help working girls to gain facts which will enable them to find their own place in the business world. "Even when a round peg is in a round hole" said Miss Fiske "the hole some times gets warped or curved, or the round peg loses its shape, and then the vocational guidance bureau can furnish facts of the other holes, round or square which prove of value to those wanting to fit themselves, and saves them much useless running to and fro."

Following the program the social committee served punch and wafers in the hall and a social half hour was enjoyed with the out of town visitors.

The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Tenth street school and the lantern and apparatus used in showing the slides were the property of the school, which the school board kindly gave permission to be used.

Two upper grade boys operated the machine, and every picture was shown very clearly.

Through the kindness of Mrs. W. J. McClosky of the Upland Florist Shop the stage in the auditorium was decorated with ferns and baskets of flowers.

FORD PROVES TO BE GOOD PROPHECY

How clearly Henry Ford saw the future of the automobile and how well he prophesied it, is shown in an article written by him in a Detroit newspaper.

In 1909, as the article states, 2,000,000 horse-drawn vehicles were sold as against 80,000 automobiles. How the prophesied reversal came appears in figures for last year, which show the sale of approximately 4,000,000 motor cars during 1923, as compared with 100,000 horse-drawn vehicles.

The article follows:

"The automobile of the past attained success in spite of its price, because there were more than enough purchasers to be found to take the limited output of the then new industry. Proportionately few could keep all the manufacturers busy and prices therefore, had no bearing on sales.

"The automobile of the present is making good because the price has been reduced just enough to add sufficient new purchasers to take care of the increased output. Supply and demand, not cost, has regulated the selling price of automobiles. The car of today is better by far than the car of a few years ago, the natural result of experience. The price is lower, just enough lower to add sufficient possible purchasers to buy the increased output.

"The automobile of the future must be enough better than the present car to begot confidence in the man of limited means and enough lower in price to insure sales for the enormously increased output.

"The car of the future must be the car for the people, the car that any man can own who can afford a horse and carriage, and mark my words, the car is coming sooner than most people expect.

"In the low-priced car dwells the future success of the automobile. Comparatively few persons can afford even a $1000 car. A limited number of factories can easily supply all the demand for high price cars, but the market for a low priced car is unlimited. More than 2,000,000 horse-drawn vehicles were sold by American factories in 1909. When you substitute a motor-driven vehicle for each of these 2,000,000 wagons and carriages you get an idea of the automobile of the future.

"The low priced car will not be a makeshift, an automobile of courtesy, a machine built for a price. It is harder to sell to a man who can only afford a low priced car than to a man whose money comes more easily. Not only must the successful car of the future be low priced, but it must present at least equal value with the present high priced car.

"The low priced car should actually be better than the car at a higher price, for more is expected of it. The man who can afford the high priced car can afford a man to keep it in order, while the man who has to buy a low priced car, if any, has to look after it himself, whether or not he has any mechanical ability. Likewise, when he buys he buys for business use and pleasure, too. That condition prevails today. The low priced car must be better built than the high priced product, because it receives harder use. The successful low priced car of today is successful because it stands a harder usage than is accorded to $5000 creations.

"Equally important with low cost as a qualification of the car of the future is low cost of upkeep. The weekly expense of an automobile will be more important to a man whose income is $100 a month than will the cost price. The one he has saved by easy stages, the other must be taken out of his earnings. Gasoline bills, repair bills, tire bills must be low. They should be as low as the expense bills for a horse and carriage. This low maintenance account can result only from light weight.

"So the car of the future will be light as well as low priced. This means the substitution of quality for quantity even to the use of materials not yet discovered."

It is notable also, in con-

UPLAND'S MEAT SUPPLY IS SAFE!!!

Every Cut of Meat sold in Upland undergoes a triple inspection—Federal, State and Municipal—before it is allowed to be sold!

Meat brought to Upland comes from points far distant from infected areas.

Owing to the very rigid federal, state and municipal inspections, it is safer to eat meat now than ever before—because consumers are assured the highest qualities from strictly clean, sanitary herds.

Protein of Meat Is of High Quality

The chief claim of meat as a food rests on its protein. Protein is one of the main things that gives to all animals and plants the properties of their living tissue or protoplasm. If there is no protein, there is no living tissue. Protein is needed to build new tissue and to repair worn-out tissue. Proteins differ in value in this respect. The reason for this is that proteins differ in the proportion of the different building stones called amino acids by the chemist, which they contain. The animal proteins come nearest to having the same combination which exists in our bodies. The proteins of meat, then, are its chief claim to preferment, and there are none better and few as good.

Eat Meat
for Health

Half Pound of Meat Daily Assures Good Protein

The eating of a half-pound of meat per person per day will help assure good protein in the diet. This advice does not apply to infants and young children. One-half pound of meat from an average side of meat, however, will provide only 22 to 25 grams of edible protein. An average person needs from 60 to 125 grams a day. The first figure is for a low protein standard and the second for a high protein standard. This leaves plenty of room for protein from milk, eggs, fish, bread, beans, or other food that one may eat. In fact, one may eat more than half a pound of "average" meat a day and still have room for other foods.

MERRY WIVES
A-VISITING GO—

The Merry Wives, a dozen strong, went to Los Angeles via Pacific Electric on the urgent invitation of Mrs. Gordon C. Day, one of the first members of the club, to spend the day with her. Broadway was first investigated, after which the ladies wended their way (wending their way is right, for the Dalton Avenue car is guaranteed the slowest in Los Angeles and has more curves to its credit than any other road) to the temporary home of the Days, where they received a royal welcome. At the depot in Los Angeles Mrs. Frederick Wenz, now of Glendale, and Mrs. C. C. Eymann of Universal City, joined the party. Another former Uplander, Mrs. Anna Myers, was asked to join in the merry-making and so the day was a joyful reunion all around. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Moore, at one o'clock, at which Mr. Day presided. Beside those mentioned, others who attended were Mrs. G. Aaron Brest, Mrs. Paul Cushing, Mrs. D. D. Crew, Mrs. W. C. Cline, Mrs. W. B. Duncan, Mrs. Geo. Gregg, Mrs. Thos. Harris, Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mrs. Grace Paulin, Mrs. Mark Bailey and Mrs. Geo. Bower.

MRS. MARY RUPP HONORED—

Mrs. Mary Rupp was very pleasantly surprised last Tuesday evening at her home on East Ninth Street by several members of her family, who came to celebrate her 79th birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in music and pleasant reminiscences, and dainty refreshments were served towards the close of the merry event. A birthday cake decorated with many candles was an attractive feature, and Mrs. Rupp was presented with a reading chair as a mark of affection from her devoted family.

Those able to be present last Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams, Miss Vera and Miss Naomi Rupp of this city and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rupp and daughter, Miss Mary Belle Rupp of Cucamonga.

ELKS LADIES' NIGHT APRIL 30TH—

Committee in charge of the monthly Ladies' Night for the Elks Lodge has announced a dancing party for Wednesday night, April 30th. A luncheon is to be served.

MR. AND MRS. JENISON HOSTS TO LEAGUE—

Members of the Missionary League of the M. E. Church were guests last Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenison on Mountain Avenue, when they held their regular business session, followed by a social evening of games and music. Refreshments were served during the evening, and the following members were present, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marr, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Clauson, Mrs. Glenn Wright, Miss Lela Farmer, Miss Elizabeth Fossett, Miss Florence Mehl.

SAN ANTONIO CHAPTER MEETS TODAY—

The regular meeting of the members of the San Antonio Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held next Monday afternoon at two-thirty at the home of Mrs. F. L. Allen, 718 East E Street, Ontario, who, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. A. Spies, will be hostess to the Chapter.

MRS. L. R. NICHOLS HOSTESS—

A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mrs. L. R. Nichols, 527 Nocta Street, Ontario, on Thursday, when she entertained a group of young friends with music and games.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening to the following guests: Miss Freida Wedel, Miss Ruby Moser, Miss Nellie Thomason, W. A. Collier, Joe Mountain, Ernest Strange.

ENJOYABLE PARTY BY BAPTIST GIRLS—

The home of Mrs. H. G. Smith, on West Tenth Street, was the scene of a merry gathering last evening when members of the Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church, Ontario, Mrs. F. E. Chaffee, teacher, met for a sewing bee, at which a great many towels for the mission in Shanghai were hemmed. The girls worked busily and had a number of towels to show for the result of the evening's work.

A short business meeting presided over by Miss Lucille Majors, president of the class, took up part of the time, and then the meeting dissolved itself into a gay social hour, during which the Misses Pauline and Doris Smith assisted their mother in serving refreshments.

Those present were Mrs. F. B. Chaffee, Miss Majors, Miss Patricia Harding, Miss Faye Allen, Miss Cora Jones, Miss Lurene Leonard, Miss Lily Snow, Miss Ruth Chenney, Miss Lila Shattuck, Miss Helen Sanford, Miss Evelyn Lynn, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Caroline Roberts, Miss Eucola Pool, Miss Dorothy Booth, Mrs. Merle Rash, Mrs. Jenkins, all of Ontario, and the Upland members were Miss Nancy Black, Miss Doris Smith, Miss Faye Jackson, Miss Doris Gathercoal, Miss Mary Beard, Mrs. H. G. Smith and her two daughters, Miss Doris and Miss Pauline Smith.

DANCING PARTY IS POSTPONED—

May Day dancing party planned by the American Legion boys for Wednesday night, April 30th, at Ruedy Hall, has been postponed.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON AT RED HILL CLUB—

Red Hill Country Club furnished the delightful setting for a bridge and mah jongg luncheon of charming appointments with which Mrs. Carlos Lawson and Mrs. George Theodore Stamm entertained yesterday afternoon.

The luncheon tables were arranged in the shape of a huge H, and were artistically decorated with fragrant sweet peas in the Dresden tints and fernery. Dainty nut baskets were used as place favors.

The mantle over the great fireplace was banked with yellow roses and fernery, while in the ballroom, where the tables were grouped for the afternoon's play, graceful baskets of sweet peas and fernery added to the artistic effect.

Luncheon was announced at 1 o'clock and was served in courses. The bridge and mah jongg tournaments followed the delectable menu.

Prizes for the afternoon's play were awarded Mrs. LeRoy A. Weller, Mrs. George Billingsley Harrison, Miss Frances Barr, Mrs. Edward Joseph Sandford and Mrs. William R. Mason.

Those who enjoyed the delightful affair numbered Mrs. Albert Wilson, Mrs. Frank A. Perhamus, Lincoln Swift, Mrs. Harlow Scott, Mrs. Alden Bradford Whitney, Mrs. Clyde Darwin DuVall, Mrs. LeRoy A. Weller, Mrs. George Billingsley Harrison, Mrs. Charles V. Barr, Mrs. Florence Marshall, Mrs. Frank Van Natta, Mrs. Harriet Longstreet Gray, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. Nellie Mason, Mrs. John Dawson Howe, Mrs. William R. Mason, Mrs. Thomas Kirk Vernon, Mrs. George Augustus Hanson, Mrs. Thomas Walker Nisbet, Mrs. R. F. Lemon, Mrs. Charles J. Coe, Mrs. Tyler R. Woodbridge, Mrs. Walter E. Boulton, Mrs. Edward T. Davis, Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, Mrs. Leonard Baugh Fowler, Mrs. Welles Thompson Ross, Mrs. Frank Monroe Taylor, Mrs. Charles Latimer, Mrs. Harold Latimer, Mrs. Paul Wright Nichols, Mrs. John Stewart Ingalls, Mrs. Henry Edson Swan, Mrs. Edward Joseph Sandford, Mrs. William Starbuck Fenton, Mrs. Jerome Hill Titus, Mrs. John Awdry Armstrong, Mrs. S. Earle Blakeslee, Mrs. Earl Holmes Richardson, Miss Katharine Salter, Miss Frances Barr and Miss Aurelia Harwood.

DR. C. P. MENGLE GUEST OF HONOR—

A surprise birthday dinner on Dr. Claude P. Mengle was carried out in a most original manner on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Mengle, who planned the whole affair, to a very successful end.

Anonymous invitations were sent to several friends, inviting them to an informal dinner at the Red Hill Country Club, the answers to be sent in care of Mr. Wayland, manager of the club.

When the guests arrived there was no host or hostess to meet them, and it was not until everyone was seated at the dining table that the secret leaked out and Dr. Mengle (who had no idea of the occasion for the party nor that his wife was hostess) learnt that his birthday anniversary was being celebrated and that he was the guest of honor.

Beautiful decorations of pink sweet peas and snapdragons of the same tint, with ferns, were used and a lovely cake in pink and white with one large pink candle in the centre of a pink rose carried out the color scheme admirably. Silver ribbon candle sticks on the dining table added to the picturesque affair. At the close of the dinner R. H. Henderson rose to make a few remarks befitting the occasion, and Dr. Mengle, on behalf of himself, made a valiant effort to answer in an appropriate manner, but was too overcome with the surprise at finding himself the special guest of the evening to do full credit to the event.

Bridge occupied the attention of the guests during the latter part of the evening, and prizes were taken by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Henderson for high men and ladies score, while the consolation favors fell to Mrs. H. W. Flowers and William Atchley. Dr. Mengle was presented with a guest prize.

Those enjoying the very delightful evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baerlein, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Blohm, Mr. and Mrs. Atchley, Mrs. H. R. Holcomb, Glenn Kelley.

VERNON—THOMPSON WEDDING—

A wedding of very pretty appointments was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Strong, 675 South Vermont Avenue, Los Angeles, on Tuesday evening, when their granddaughter, Miss Permelia Mabel Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Theodore Thompson of Glendale, became the bride of William Kirk Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirk Vernon, West Sixteenth Street, this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Vernon, retired pastor of the Christian Church, and grandfather of the groom, and a beautiful musical program featured the service in which Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, parents of the bride, and Mrs. Irving Fallis and Mrs. Jack Baird of Glendale presented several groups of songs.

The wedding took place before an improvised altar built in the large living room, banked with spring blossoms of pastel shades, and the bride entered on the arm of her father, walking up an aisle formed by her bridesmaids all gowned in georgette frocks of pastel shades and holding ropes of pink ribbons for the pathway.

The bride wore a beautiful imported gown of white chiffon and satin heavily beaded in a web design, and her long veil was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Luella Lockwood, and the bridesmaids Miss Marguerite Eckles, Miss Mildred Cole of Glendale, and Miss Marian Buckman and Miss Marjorie McComber of Los Angeles. Marjorie Rae Harker, small niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

Mr. Vernon was attended by Herbert McCullough of Camp Baldy and Upland, who acted as best man.

The bride was a student at the University of California and a popular member of the Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Vernon, after graduating from Chaffey Union High School, attended Pomona College, The School of Mines at Golden, Colorado, and later went to Stanford University.

After the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon trip to British Columbia, staying at San Francisco and Seattle on their way north.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Vernon will go to Camp Baldy for the summer.

Attending from Upland were Mr. and Mrs. T. Kirk Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. James Vernon, Mrs. C. F. McCullough, Herbert McCullough.

MISS KOUTS HOSTESS AT CARD PARTY—

A very delightful evening was spent yesterday at the home of Miss Marion Kouts, 2214 Laurel Avenue, when a number of friends were invited to play the ever pleasing game of "500". Later dancing was enjoyed by the guests and an elaborate supper was served at the close of the evening's amusements.

There were fifteen guests and Miss Kouts was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Cline Kouts.

WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS—

Election of officers for the coming year was held last Tuesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Upland, the meeting taking place as usual in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Third Avenue.

Mrs. William Tuttle was elected president, Mrs. G. W. Eckerman vice-president, Mrs. W. S. Avery treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Atwood recording secretary. Mrs. Leon Durham was chosen auditor, and Miss Mary Tweed corresponding secretary, taking the place of Miss Mina Ruesink who had held the position for two years. The first four officers were re-elected from last year's ticket.

As the election took most of the afternoon there was no regular program and besides arranging details for the serving of the dinner by the club women for members of the Eastern Star next Monday evening no other business was transacted.

Long Drives Will Win Tomorrow

My, what a swat! That's what Red Hill golfers are praying the gallery will ejaculate Saturday afternoon, when the hefty club wielders of the country club get unlimbered and in action in the long driving contest booked to start at 1 o'clock.

Although the Saturday contest comes under the title "long driving contest", the man who scoots the ball a short distance, but in a straight line, will have as much, if not more, chance of carting home a trophy than the individual who lays on the ball with all the power in his system, and thereby runs a chance of slicing or fanning the air.

Each contestant gets three whacks at the ball, and the little white pellet must stay within the boundaries of a 50-yard fairway to count. If it gallops out of bounds that effort is wasted, and is considered in taking the average of the drives.

Therefore, the conservative player who knocks the ball a distance of a hundred yards or so, and keeps it in the fairway each time, will bat among the highest of the high, when the average is taken.

Two prizes are to be awarded. One to the golfer making the best average for the three drives, and one to the man who makes the longest single drive down the pike.

From No. 3 Tee

The marathon tilt is to be held on number 3 tee, as it has the smoothest fairway with least obstructions. According to the committee the tilt will not interfere with the weekly sweepstakes played Saturday afternoon, as entrants in the driving contest will "do their stuff" when they get around to the third tee, from where they will continue their sweepstakes playing.

of New Officials at the Ontario Laundry

THE SOUTHERN SERVICE COMPANY, has much pleasure in announcing the appointment of two new officials in the Ontario Laundry—

M. W. Russell—Manager
Frank Geer—Plant Supt.

Mr. Russell, who for two years was plant superintendent under the management of F. W. Northcott, is well known to residents of the West End. He and Mr. Geer have been with the Ontario Laundry so long that they are thoroughly familiar with its policy of service.

Laundry customers are, therefore, assured of the same high quality of work and satisfying service that they are accustomed to receiving.

Mr. Northcott, the former manager, is promoted to the managership of a larger plant at Pomona. In leaving the Ontario plant, he wishes to thank all his customers for their generous support and patronage and to bespeak a continuation thereof for the new management.

MANY COUNTY MEN DISCUSS BOND ISSUE

Hands from every section of the nation's largest county were joined in the common cause of a new courthouse Tuesday night. Over 100 representatives from the far-flung communities stretching from Barstow to Chino met at the Chocolate Palace, San Bernardino, and by unanimous vote endorsed the forthcoming issue and organized the San Bernardino County Courthouse Bond Campaign Committee of which Upland's city attorney, Ralph E. Swing, was selected chairman.

A full score of reasons for voting the new courthouse on May 6 was urged in debate by the delegates, who represented chambers of commerce, business bodies, luncheon clubs, women's clubs, American Legion posts, and the grand jury. At the outset there were some who expressed some doubt over phases of the proposal but these later announced that they were in hearty accord with the issue.

With the election but 14 days away the meeting did not adjourn until a campaign organization and committees had been selected for every section of the county.

Communities to Name Representatives

An advisory committee composed of 25 members from outside of San Bernardino was recommended to the Board of Supervisors. Such a committee would aid in selecting the site and in the building arrangements. The supervisors were urged to call upon communities to select these representatives as soon as possible.

The new courthouse bond issue for $850,000, of which over $300,000 will be immediately retired by the sale of the present site for business purposes and from money collected for courthouse additions, was urged as a matter of business economy. Fire protection for county records, removal of earthquake danger, civic advancement, governmental efficiency, increased room, and the creation of additional taxable business property were among the reasons urged for the voting of the bonds on May 6.

Dwight F. Towne, president of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce, called the meeting to order and directed attention to the report of the present grand jury urging the erection of a new courthouse at once as a necessary measure for efficient county government and for fire protection to priceless county records. Mr. Towne called on Senator Swing to act as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Herman Harris reviewed the new courthouse issue from a business standpoint. He declared that it would be a mistake if the bonds were not voted because for purposes of taxation the county would derive a 16 per cent revenue on its investment. This would be possible through an increase in property values surrounding the present courthouse site, which would come with its conversion to strictly business property. Mr. Harris stated that the Board of Supervisors has a bona fide offer of $225,000 for the present site and he believed $300,000 would be realized from its sale. This money would retire 40 per cent of the bond issue. Again, the property surrounding the new courthouse site would increase in value.

R. H. Mack reviewed courthouse history beginning with the construction of the present plant in 1874 to the building of the so-called new courthouse in 1894, telling of $60,000 repairs made to make extra room for expanding business. He declared that if there were no further growth in the county the bond rate maximum would be 85 cents on $3,000 worth of property or $1,000 assessed valuation. This would be materially reduced by the retirement of bonds by the sale of the present site and growth of the county.

MENNONITE NOTES

Sunday, April 27th, there will be again the regular meetings and services. Sunday School begins at 9:30 a.m. We are always glad for a full house and a very high percentage of attendance.

As an echo of the blessed Easter season and its great significance for Christians, the pastor will use as his theme for the sermon "Our Resurrection Bodies." His text will be taken from I. Cor. 15:51-52. Preaching services begin at 10:30 a.m.

On Sunday evening the C. E. Societies will carry out the mission programs. The regular C. E. topic is "What Opportunities Do Missions Offer for Life Service?" In the Senior meeting some life sketches of noted missionaries will be given. Meetings begin at 7 p.m.

Preaching service at 7:44 p.m. The pastor will occupy the pulpit and use as his text John 5:1-9, "Christ Befriending a Friendless Soul."

You are cordially invited to all of our services and meetings. At the midweek prayer meeting we now study the Book of Acts of the Apostles. The lesson for next Wednesday begins with Chapter 5:12. We have blessed and profitable times at these meetings.

P.N. Practical Front

CORSETS

Youthifying Your Own Figure

TONIGHT, give your figure a few moments of sincere looking-glass study. Note where it already conforms with today's youthful style silhouette and where it needs a little intelligent control. The hips? Do they need some persuasive "modeling"? The back? Does it need more erect "poising"?

Be honest with yourself. Not one of us is perfect. Each has her own little problem. Luckily it can be solved. More than likely you've been wearing the wrong kind of corset.

In that case, the humiliating and style-killing individualities of your figure—few or many—can be corrected easily, simply by choosing your personal model of the right kind of corset—the P. N. Practical Front.

Why P. N. Practical Front Is the Right Corset for You

The right P. N. Practical Front model for you will produce the correct silhouette. The flexible Inner Elastic Vest holds the front steels at the true body center. No off-center steels can prod the bust. No "riding up." The outer flaps lace swiftly, easily over Flat hooks, like lacing a shoe. Each lacing lengthens the life of the corset's lines, creates a new fitting at each wearing and retains the original custom-corsetted effect.

ONTARIO

Will Add 50 Members
That more than fifty members will be added this week to the rolls of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, which closed its annual membership drive with a total of more than 360, was the indication Tuesday afternoon, following the weekly forum luncheon at the Hotel

UPLAND HOTEL

W. S. Avery, Prop.

First Ave. and Ninth St.
UPLAND

point Club, when the cards of many former members, who for one reason or another had not, to date, been signed up for the coming year, were auctioned off to team workers attending the luncheon.

In making his final check of the membership campaign, Secretary B. W. Spencer discovered that many active chamber workers were not signed up for the coming year, many of them having been missed through oversight or because they chanced to be absent from the city during the two days of the drive. The first card to be "auctioned" was that of Howard M. Shattuck, president of the chamber, and was the cause for general merriment.

Crombie Allen was luncheon chairman and did the duties of "auctioneer," carrying the affair off in his usual happy manner.

Some 60 cards were thus given out and the result is expected to be a goodly addition to the chamber membership rolls during the week.

"Major" Arthur I. Peterson of the victorious Blue army, told how his aggregation captured first honors in the membership drive and characterized his workers as a "peppy bunch." "Major" Edward Middough, whose Red army was defeated by a narrow margin, spoke briefly and commented on the spirit of hearty co-operation with the chamber evinced by the people of Ontario generally.

At a special meeting of the directors of the chamber following the forum luncheon, the hoof and mouth disease situation was discussed and action looking to the consistent and rigid enforcement of quarantine regulations was urged.

It was pointed out that, apparently through political pull, many persons were being permitted to sidestep regulations, and an instance was recited where the Fox Film Company, armed with a special permit, was allowed to bring a large number of horses from Los Angeles into this county.

Appointed on a special committee to confer with the county supervisors were C. E. Mead, H. M. Shattuck, B. W. Spencer, Mayor W.

D. Ball and Crombie Allen.

Irving Harper Succumbs

His health broken during his service overseas in the world war and failing ever since, Hiram Irving Harper, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harper, prominent Ontario pioneers, died Tuesday at the home of his parents, 125 Granada Court, at the age of 35.

Mr. Harper was a native son of Ontario and had scores of warm friends who will deeply regret his passing. He was a member of the American Legion, the Woodmen of the World, the Odd Fellows and the Elks.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Erich J. Ritter and Mrs. Otto S. Roen of Ontario, and Mrs. Gerald Crowell of Riverside.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from Draper's chapel, with the Rev. W. Earle Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Bellevue Cemetery.

Trucks Collide

James DeBonis, of 734 Indiana Boulevard, Los Angeles, was suffering from painful cuts about the face today as the result of an accident Wednesday night at A Street and Melrose Avenue, in which his light truck collided with a heavier machine driven by Virgil Posey.

Officers of the Automobile Club of Southern California, who investigated the accident, expressed the belief that it resulted when DeBonis attempted to pass the other machine on an intersection as Posey was turning into Melrose Avenue, both having been traveling in the same direction on A Street.

DeBonis was taken to the office of Dr. Calvert L. Emmons, who attended his injuries. His car was badly damaged, but that driven by Posey for Frank Moran, of 610 East A Street, escaped serious damage.

Opposes Jury Change

That the old and time-tried system requiring the unanimous verdict of a jury of twelve men can be much better depended upon for the administration of real justice than the proposed plan for a two-third or three-fourths jury verdict in the trial of court cases, was the opinion expressed Wednesday afternoon by Mayor S. W. McNabb of San Bernardino in an address before the members of the Ontario Lions Club in weekly luncheon session at Hotel Casa Blanca.

experience as an attorney and as a former sheriff of San Bernardino County, Mayor McNabb took the stand that the unanimous verdict was beyond all question the best and urged his hearers to work for the defeat of any proposed change in the jury law.

Mayor McNabb held the increase in crime due in large measure to increased prosperity during and following the late war. He declared that records showed great increase in criminal court activities during eras of prosperity, with the jails full, while in periods of hard times the jails were empty, but the civil courts were filled to overflowing with actions for the collection of money. Mayor McNabb also expressed himself as opposed to any change in the law which would give the trial judge added authority in his instructions to the jury.

Harry I. DeBerard was initiated as a member of the Lions Club. Attendance was reported at 100 per cent for the fourth consecutive week.

Club visitors included Roy L. Driscoll, Frank Kinsey, J. A. Whitehead and Frank McComb of Pomona; M. Reynolds of Redlands and Sid Herzberg of Ontario.

Pledge Support

Members of Ontario Post American Legion, in regular session this week at the Hotpoint Club, adopted a strong resolution pledging their hearty support of county and state officials in their efforts to stamp out the hoof and mouth disease epidemic, and strongly urged the adoption by the county supervisors of rigid quarantine regulations to be consistently enforced without favoritism.

Boasts of individuals that they have been able to evade quarantine regulations through political pull or otherwise were warmly denounced by speakers discussing the question at last night's meeting and it was declared that such evasions could not be looked upon as marks of good American citizenship.

Dr. J. H. Titus was among the speakers who made strong pleas for rigid quarantine enforcement and decried the lax manner in which the situation has been handled to date.

By way of showing their good faith in their avowed efforts to help check the spread of the disease, the Legion members voted to discontinue their Saturday night dances for the present.

Takes Jail Sentence

Jack McKay, well-known former service man and automobile salesman, who was arrested Friday evening on a bootleg charge following a raid by Ontario officers on his home, 1005 Nocta Street, entered a plea of guilty when he appeared before Judge George R. Holbrook in the police court at the city hall Wednesday.

Judge Holbrook pronounced a sentence of $300 fine or 300 days in the county jail. McKay announced that he would take the jail sentence. He is being held in the city jail and will be taken to San Bernardino tomorrow, according to Chief of Police W. O. Hardy.

When officers visited the McKay house last week they were informed by the owner that there was no liquor on the premises, but a search disclosed a quantity of brandy and whiskey cached in a partition of the front porch.

When McKay was arraigned, his bail was fixed at $300, and when he was about to secure bondsmen for this amount, a second charge was filed against him and bail in that case fixed at $500, so he gave up any attempt to secure his freedom and has remained in jail since.

Officers have received reports that the man has been doing a thriving liquor business here for many months. Recently he was arrested in Long Beach on a similar charge and is reported to have served 180 days in jail there. On his release he returned to Ontario, only to be arrested here shortly afterward.

Elect Club Officers

Balked in their attempts to elect a president for the ensuing year when Mrs. John A. Fallis, incumbent, declined the nomination for a second term, members of the Current Events Club Tuesday afternoon contented themselves with the selection of other officers and left the choice of a new president for the next regular meeting. The Current Events Club is the largest organization of its kind in the city.

Mrs. Geoffrey J. Fleming was elected first vice-president; Mrs. Benjamin F. Warner, second vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Fildes, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas C. Hardy, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. S. J. Bentley, treasurer.

Your Next Car

Will be this Light-Six, if you learn the truth

WHEN you buy a car in the "thousand-dollar" class, here are some things you should know.

We made a canvass of men who bought rival cars in this class. And we found that 96 in each 100 bought without knowing these facts.

So, for your sake and our sake, we want to present them to you.

Save $200 to $400

Studebaker builds 150,000 fine cars yearly. It builds in model factories, modernly equipped. It has spent $38,000,000 in the past five years on new-day plants and equipment.

By quantity and up-to-dateness it saves large sums per car. A car like this Light-Six, built under ordinary conditions, would cost $200 to $400 more.

11.4% less to run

This supreme quality means lower operating cost. Owners of fleets of cars in this class made audited records to prove this.

They compared 329 cars, running up to 25,000 miles each. And they found that the Studebaker Light-Six cost 11.4% less to operate than the average of its rivals. This includes depreciation. The saving was nearly one cent per mile.

The reasons are these

The Studebaker Light-Six, in its chassis, represents the best we know. In steel and in workmanship it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

It is designed and superintended by an engineering department which costs us $500,000 yearly.

Each steel formula has been proved the best for its purpose by years of tests. On some we pay 15% premium to makers to get them exactly right.

Each car in the building gets 32,000 tests and inspections.

The crankshafts are machined on inch. And 122 are exact to one-half that.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Unusual equipment. Scores of extra values.

Made by the leaders

This is one of the cars which has made Studebaker the leader in quality cars. Our sales have almost trebled in three years. The trend toward Studebakers has become a sensation.

Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

Back of this car is an honored name, which for 72 years has stood for high ideals.

Behind it are $90,000,000 of assets, staked on pleasing you better than others.

Before you pay $1,000 or more for a car, these are facts you should know and compare. You owe that to yourself.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance: It will enable you

The farmer plows to grow the grain
To fill your flour bag again.
—Young Mother Hubbard

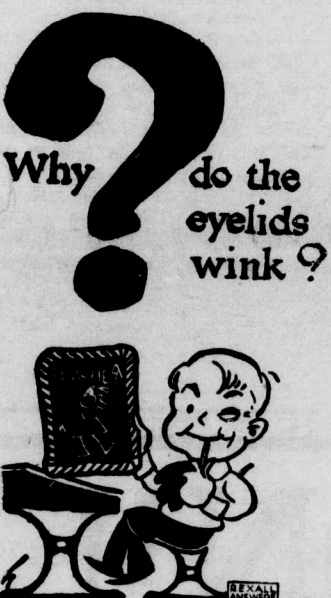

Flour of standard excellence and a wide variety of choice eatables that will help you keep house.

some time, is reported improving and his early recovery is now hoped for.

Mrs. I. Davis, who has been severely ill for many weeks at her home on Belmont Ave., is now said to be up and around with the use of crutches.

Mrs. Geo. Stafford (Theresa Van Fleet) one of the popular teachers at Cucamonga school, has moved over from Ontario and is living for the present with home folks. Mr. Stafford comes out from the city for the week-end here until the close of the school term.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Todd and children were guests Friday and Saturday at the home of Mrs. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Roberts, coming out from Los Angeles. Mrs. Todd accompanied her daughter, Miss Helen, and her friend, Miss Lillian Barringer, who had been the day's guest at the Roberts' home, back to the city on Saturday, while Mr. Todd remained over for a longer stay.

Mrs. Theresa Stipe was a houseguest over the week-end at the home of her friend, Miss Alma Massey in Pomona, the young ladies enjoying with friends the film play, "The Ten Commandments," Grauman's Egyptian Theater in Hollywood.

Mrs. F. B. Van Fleet and daughters, Mrs. Vada Slye and Miss Vada, were guests at the Easter week-end of relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dana, celebrating their joint birthday anniversary, were guests at a delicious birthday dinner prepared in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. G. W. English, at her home in Ontario. In turn, Mr. and Mrs. English were guests at a beautiful Easter Sunday dinner at the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Dana.

Contemplating a pleasure trip to his native land, sunny France, Marjorie Blane, of State Highway, manager of the Garrett Company winery, expects to leave May 26th for New York, from which port he will sail for La Havre with his wife and two children, daughter, Eleanor, 17, and son, Francois, 18, to be gone three months. They will visit Mr. Blane's mother at Auch, 80 miles from Paris, and other relatives, and will make a tour through Egypt. The son will remain in France for a year's study at a French university.

Blane left France when but 16 years old, thirty-two years ago, and is eagerly anticipating the visit to the old home with his family. They will return in August.

Distinguished Visitors at Cucamonga School

Many distinguished educators from various parts of the state availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by Easter week vacation to visit the State Demonstration School at Cucamonga (Southside) and study the progress being made in the new methods of advanced education as practiced at the school under the efficient direction of Mrs. Adella Samuels, principal. The visiting list including such well-known names as Prof. Johnson, superintendent of public schools of San Diego; Mrs. Smith, secretary of the state P.T.T.A., who wishes to make a report on the State Demonstration School before the next state convention; Mrs. Brown, head of the Monterro school at San Diego, and many principals and teachers from the schools of Los Angeles and county.

Mrs. Gilbert Dziel Entertainers
Afternoon Club
A most cordial hostess, Mrs. Gilbert Dziel entertained members of the Alta Loma Bridge Club at her home on Hellman Ave. Tuesday afternoon. Gorgeous amaryllis lilies, roses and Easter lilies adorned the living rooms and added to the enjoyment of the occasion. The round of auction bridge resulted in Miss Matilda Schiedel making the best score. The game. The pleasant afternoon closed with the serving of a delicious repast by the hostess. The club will meet with Mrs. W. H. Horst Tuesday, May 6th.

Final Food Sale April 26
Closing a successful series of food sales in the interest of raising $500 for the furnishing of a room in the new Santa Antonio Community Hospital, the Cucamonga Woman's Club will give their final food sale, with hot lunch served at the noon hour, tomorrow, from 10 to 6 o'clock, at Morris' Drug Store, corner State Highway. This will be the last effort in this line sponsored by the club women this year, with the exception of the entertainment of May 9th, to add a substantial sum to the hospital fund, and it is hoped that everyone interested in this worthy cause will patronize this sale. With $180 already in the treasury, it needs $128 to meet the cost of furnishing one room. Whether one is a member of the local club, a friend, or just interested in the hospital, contributions of cakes, pies, bread, beans, salads, candy, etc., are solicited, the receipt of which will be much appreciated. Mr. Morris has very generously agreed to give 10 per cent of all his sales on that day to the Woman's Club for the hospital fund, so if one wishes to help in that way, save your purchasing list of drugs, etc., until Saturday. The Cucamonga Woman's Club is also working enthusiastically for other benevolences as well, including their annual subscription to the Boy and Girl Scout Work, and believe that anyone interested in that good cause would be glad to contribute also with articles for the food sale. Remember the date, this Saturday, at Morris' Drug Store. Come to lunch and bring the family!

Several members of the local branch of the Woman's Missionary Society attended the all-day meeting of the Union Missionary Society held yesterday in the Bethel Congregational Church in Ontario, among them being Mrs. Mary Miner, Mrs. Carrie F. Smith, Mrs. Belle Wainwright, Mrs. Geo. Keyes, Mrs. J. T. Haddock, Mrs. O. T. Hatch, Mrs. W. W. Hatch, Mrs. T. M. Joseph of Cucamonga, and Mrs. S. S. Dixon, who has recently moved from here to Upland.

THE TRUEST FRIEND

The truest friend is not the one who comes in time of care, Or he who mingles tears with yours
When sorrow is your share.
The truest friend is he who shows That joy is in his heart,
Who mingles radiant smiles with yours
When gladness is your part.

True, it is fine to have a friend Who comes to sympathize,
When hurts and heartaches fill the days
And mists bedim the eyes.
It's so nice to clasp a hand
When showers linger near,
But, oh, it's just as sweet to clasp A hand in hours of cheer.

A friend may prove his friendship best
By pleasure in your gladness,
And give a smile, with naught of guile,
Else joy may turn to sadness,
For many a heart is lonely,
'Midst fortune—seeming fair,
When none shows pleasing interest,
And no one seems to care.

—Ruth Y. Shaw, in Paris Mercury

MODERN IDEAS FOR HOSPITAL

Determined that the new San Antonio Community Hospital, now nearing completion in East Tenth Street, shall be second to none in the matter of modern equipment, efficiency and the ability to render real service to the West End, which it will serve, supporters of the institution throughout the entire district today announced themselves as enthusiastically behind a proposed campaign to raise an additional $64,000 for the purpose of completing the institution in a style befitting the present and future needs of the community.

With this end in view and in order that the people of the West End may see for themselves just what has been accomplished to date, directors of the Hospital Association have fixed next Monday for inspection day at the partially-completed hospital. The public is cordially invited to visit the new institution on this occasion. The hours for inspection have been announced at from 1:30 to 5 p. m., and there will be a corps of well-informed guides on hand to show visitors over the premises.

To date, a total of approximately $98,000 has been expended on the new hospital, exclusive of an expenditure of some $3,500 for the equipment of some ten rooms by societies and individuals of the West End. The cost of equipment is approximately $350 a room.

As the coming campaign is outlined, each of the several communities of the West End interested in the hospital will conduct its own fund drive. J. J. Atwood is in charge of the Upland drive; John S. Armstrong for Ontario, Charles Mottisinger for Cucamonga, Miss Gertrude Reid for Alta Loma, and the last two named will also have charge of the Etiwanda district.

When completed, the hospital will have accommodations for 35 beds, practically doubling the capacity of the present institution.

Of the $98,000 already expended, $60,000 was the gift of the late Mrs. Frances Paul, who took a very active interest in the plans for the new hospital to the very day of her death about a year ago. While the hospital stands in the city of Upland, it is the wish of members of the hospital association that it be fully understood that it is an institution for the entire West End.

COUNTY BOND ISSUE DISCUSSED

Highland Woman Urges Bonds
Mrs. Cora J. Linville of Highland urged the new courthouse for the best interests of the county, and declared that the women voters were ready to mark their ballots 100 per cent "yes" on May 6. L. E. Tiernan of Barstow stated that safety for records and lives of county employees demanded the new county buildings. He declared the measure was without opposition on the desert.

E. H. Richardson of Adelanto stated that he stood squarely for the new courthouse, as there was no question in his mind as to the immediate action.

G. A. Hanson of Upland declared: "The courthouse must be built. I have been here 33 years and have never known of a more needed issue."

D. D. McDonald of Ontario stated he had come to be convinced when the meeting opened. Later he expressed himself for the bonds.

W. F. Grow of Highland urged the courthouse for reasons of business economy. He stated it might be possible to defer the issuing of the bonds when voted until the passing of the cattle disease, and therefore that was no reason for refusing to vote the bonds.

Colton Attorney Points to Need
E. W. Bartlett of Colton stated it was laughable for a county to try and do efficient business in the present cramped quarters.

W. M. Bristol of East Highlands declared that the proximity of the San Andreas rift necessitated a building that would not collapse in case of earthquake. He stated that the present stone structure was a menace to both life and records in case of a tremor.

A. E. Isham of Redlands declared that the new courthouse was an investment rather than an expense.

C. M. Crow of Chino stated that the life of girl employees demanded the doing of county business in a safe structure.

A. E. Brock of Redlands stated that the present courthouse would be a disgrace to the poorest county in the state.

ONTARIO

JUDGMENT FOR REALTOR

Of particular interest to real estate agents of Ontario and vicinity will be the action yesterday afternoon of Judge George R. Holbrook in the justice court in rendering a decision granting O. G. Figlio, well-known local realtor, judgment in the amount of $250, claimed due as commission in a realty transfer for Hugh P. Anderson, which the latter refused to complete after the papers were placed in escrow.

Judge Holbrook's decision also awarded the plaintiff in the action $25 for attorney's fees and costs of suit.

According to evidence produced in court this afternoon, through the agency of Mr. Figlio, Mr. Anderson entered into an agreement some months ago to exchange Ontario citrus property, valued at $6,000 for business property in Republic, Kansas, of like value, belonging to Joe G. Read and Hannah L. Read. After the papers had been placed in escrow with N. E. Trautman, cashier of the Ontario National Bank, Mr. Anderson called the deal off.

Although Mr. Anderson took the stand that he was entitled to declare the deal off, he had not fully understood that the property he was to take in Kansas was a furnished restaurant, equipped with dishes, cooking utensils and the like, and was dependent on the equipment for the rental of the place. Mr. Figlio took the stand that he had completed his end of the bargain when the deal went into escrow. Judge Holbrook held a similar view.

Mr. Figlio was represented in his action by Attorney A. O. Dillon, while Attorney Isaac Jones appeared for Mr. Anderson.

GLENN SMITH PRESIDENT
Glenn D. Smith, general manager of the Ontario Power Company, and the San Antonio Water Company was yesterday afternoon elected president of the Ontario Rotary Club, when the members met in luncheon session at the Current Events Club in West B street.

Howard M. Shattuck was elected secretary of the club and Ben W. Spencer, treasurer. The officers, together with James B. Draper, Wellington A. Freeman, Roy D. Newton, and J. Stewart Ingalls will serve the club as its board of directors during the ensuing year. John S. Armstrong is retiring Rotary president.

It was Orange Day at the Rotary Club yesterday and the program was in charge of a committee, numbering Roy D. Newton, chairman; and A. L. Peterson. The luncheon was served by a committee of Rotarians under the direction of Claude W. Rander.

Three talks, appropriate to the occasion, featured the program. William Laidlaw, well-known rancher, spoke on "The Growing of Oranges"; Charles Latimer, head of the San Antonio Orchard Company, talked on "The Shipping and Selling of Oranges"; and the subject of Dr. J. H. Titus, prominent physician and surgeon, was "An Orange a Day Keeps the Doctor Away."

W. A. Freeman gave an interesting birthday talk and the usual community singing added to the pleasure of the occasion.

School Notes

The Upland Grammar School's assembly program today was about Fire Prevention as this week was set aside for that purpose.

The program was as follows:
Song—Come Thou Almighty King.

Recitation—"What Is Meant by Forest Song"—America.

The track meet between the Red Blue and White teams which was held the Friday before vacation came out victorious for the Reds with a score of 61 points. The Blues had 40.

Miss H. Smith, a former teacher in the Upland Grammar School visited her friends in Ontario and Upland Easter vacation. Miss Smith is now teaching in Los Angeles.

The Upland Grammar School teachers inspected the new San Antonio Hospital, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. M. E. Hill of Chaffey Union High School is offering the following prizes for the eighth grade pupils of the Chaffey District.

1. For the best composition on any patriotic subject, $3.00.
For the second best, $2.00.

2. For the best test passed on the Constitution of the United States, $3.00.
For the second best, $2.00.

On April 24, the Upland Grammar School baseball team played Chino and won, 6 to 1.

H. Coligny of Victorville stated that the Victorville delegation was going home to secure a 100 per cent support for the bonds.

W. E. Leonard of San Bernardino declared the present plant to be inadequate and unsafe.

Brown Says Redlands For It
C. M. Brown of Redlands urged all to get out and work for votes. He declared that hysteria should not prevent the bonds from passing and assured a big vote from Redlands.

Mr. Brown took delight in making his usual reference to his Democratic political affiliations.

R. F. Garner of San Bernardino declared for the new buildings and stated that the site problem was being magnified. He thought probably a bonus would even be offered for the site.

M. W. H. Williams, A. E. Brock, Mr. Brown and others discussed the site question. Upon motion of E. F. VanLaven the selections of the advisory committee of 25 to

HULING DENIED A NEW TRIAL

Denied a new trial, John E. Huling, a Los Angeles business man, convicted as an accomplice of Fred E. Alford in the $30,000 Ontario fraud, was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin Wednesday by Superior Judge Jesse Olney.

Judge Olney refused to hear a plea for probation, although four of the jurors who voted for conviction had been called by the defense attorneys to testify in Huling's request for leniency. The jurist would not permit the defense to call the jurors to the stand in an attempt to prove that the verdict by which Huling was acquitted of six charges and convicted of one, was reached by a compromise after nineteen hours of deliberation.

Attorney O. G. Hoegstedt, chief counsel for the defense, announced that an appeal based on asserted errors during the trial of the case, would be filed immediately before the California District Court of Appeals.

Bond of $50,000 is Refused
At the insistence of Chief Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hertz that Huling be kept in jail pending a decision of his appeal, the jurist refused to permit the convicted man to give bail. In the courtroom were relatives who were ready to put up $50,000 for Huling's release, if that amount were necessary.

"Never in all my years of practice," declared Attorney Robert H. Clarke, former judge of the Ventura courts, "have I seen bail denied a man acquitted of six charges and convicted of but one, especially when the prisoner offered $50,000 bail."

Huling was at liberty for more than a year on $25,000 bail before his conviction.

In a two-hour argument in support of Huling's motion for a new trial, Attorney Raymond E. Hodge cited what he described as "gross errors of law" in the Huling trial, which continued for four weeks.

He began by citing that Judge Olney permitted the jurors to retire with a copy of the information charging an offense that had been stricken off the record by demurrer; that the judge erred in giving instructions to the jury regarding the intent of the crime of obtaining money and property under false pretenses—the count on which Huling was convicted; and that the judge's remark to the jury, when it returned to the courtroom to report it could not agree, a few hours before a decision was reached, was an error in that it influenced the jury.

The remark was the judge's telling the jurors that the "case will be reset for trial," when the defense argued the state had not and could not have, at that time, announced any such intention.

Charge Instructions Were Defective
The defense also charged that the asserted defective instructions alone caused the jury to convict Huling, as it was worded in such a manner as to virtually force a verdict of guilty because it disregarded the proof of intent to commit a crime.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Hertz opposed the granting of a new trial, arguing that there was no serious error of law, that the instructions given by the judge were correct in that the intent in the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses did not have to be proven, where the defendant knew, as Huling admitted on the witness stand, that the person to whom the Ontario warrants were drawn, had not sold the city merchandise. Special Prosecutor Walter E. Byrne also argued against the defense's attempt to gain a new trial, citing numerous legal authorities to support this argument that there were no reversible errors in the procedure.

During the course of the argument Mr. Hertz stepped to the bench and Judge Olney engaged him in a whispered conference. At the conclusion of this, Attorney Clarke requested that the court reporter insert into the records the notation that the prosecutor and the judge had engaged in a conversation not intelligible to the defendant or his counsel. Judge Olney resented the motion and began a statement of the conversation. Attorney Clarke, however, insisted that the reporter's record show the incident.

The four jurors called by the defense were S. B. Sparks, Chas. Hidden, J. H. Knight and R. C. Crawford.

Recommend a site to the supervisors was passed. A. E. Grow moved the endorsement of the bond issue, which unanimously carried. Other motions carried calling for the organization of the body present as the bond issue campaign committee, the appointment of an executive committee with C. M. Brown chairman, and a newspaper publicity committee with F. S. Hoesfelt as chairman. Senator Swing was chosen permanent chairman.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH SITUATION SAME IN THIS COUNTY

While no new developments in the foot-and-mouth disease were shown at Fontana, the Fontana Farms Company apparently is no nearer a solution on how it will feed its herds of hogs as the result of eight carloads of garbage a day being cut off by action of the Board of Supervisors. The supervisors will put the ban on bringing garbage into the county within the five-day period it was declared, and officials of the farms company are busy endeavoring to arrange for other means of feeding the hogs on its ranch.

To Discuss Situation
The entire situation was discussed at a meeting at 1:30 o'clock today by the council of protection, which is to be the principal committee in charge of the foot-and-mouth campaign in this county.

This committee as it is now constituted includes: J. P. Coy, horticultural inspector and quarantine director; A. D. Hubbell, county veterinarian; H. J. Wilder, farm advisor; W. A. Shay, sheriff; J. R. Gill, Wilmet T. Smith, Supervisor; A. G. Kendall, N. A. Richardson, of San Bernardino; R. B. Peters of Devore; B. W. Spencer, of Ontario; A. E. Isham and J. S. Edwards, of Redlands; E. F. Van Laven, of Colton; W. K. Beattie, of Upland; E. W. Rhodes, of Chino.

Los Angeles is Worried
At Los Angeles it is declared it will require a month for that city to construct an incinerator of sufficient size to handle the garbage that is now shipped in tank cars to Declez. Before the incinerator could be constructed a huge mountain of garbage would accumulate.

Everyone Walks Now

Further strengthening its precautions taken in combating the disease, the Board of Supervisors of this county yesterday placed "foot baths" along the roads remaining open leading from Los Angeles county into San Bernardino county. Everyone has to go through the process, which consists of alighting from the conveyance in which they are traveling and walking through sawdust soaked with a powerful disinfectant. A frame about ten or twelve feet long by three feet wide and six or eight inches in depth is laid on the roadside, then filled with the sawdust preparation, and as each car draws abreast, the grand march starts before they are permitted to cross the line into San Bernardino County.

"TORCH BEARERS" TICKETS ON SALE

Reservations for the general public for the next Community Play "The Torch Bearers" will be open tomorrow, and seats will be on sale at Mac's Drug Store in this city and Ford Music Bros. Shop, 315 North Euclid avenue, Ontario.

Season ticket holders were able to get reservation yesterday and as this production promises to far out shine anything else every attempted by The Players it is safe to say that many of the seats were reserved.

"The Torch Bearers" is so new that the play has not yet been published, and the players are learning their lines from typewritten pages. It has been played for a few months in New York City, where it was produced for the first time and drew crowded houses. Officers and directors of The Community Players are delighted at the opportunity of being able to get the play, and feel that they are offering to the people of Upland, Ontario and the West End a high class production which will be well worth seeing.

L. T. Cutler, deputy sheriff, who left here on Monday for Arizona to bring back Joseph Byrd, accused embezzler, arrived with his prisoner in San Bernardino yesterday. The alleged thief was placed in the county jail and Mr. Cutler returned to his Upland home glad to be back in California again. He reports severe conditions in the traffic congestion on the border line between California and Arizona, and claims those having enough money may drive their cars back from the line six miles, load them on a train and get across the border, continuing cheerfully on their way. It costs thirty dollars, and only the traveling rich can afford to make those long trips in the way of food and living conditions while waiting.

NEW MANAGER ONTARIO LAUNDRY

M. W. Russell of West E street, Ontario, is the new manager of the Ontario Laundry, dry, vice Frank Northcott, who has been promoted to the plant at Pomona. Mr. Russell has been superintendent under Mr. Northcott for nearly two years and will maintain the same service as has been given to laundry patrons as in the past.

The new manager has been with the Ontario Laundry company since 1917, when he took the place of Mr. Northcott, who went to war. Mr. Russell is an old resident of Ontario, and previous to joining the Laundry staff, he was in the grocery business in that city.

On recommendation of Mr. Northcott, Mr. Russell was appointed to succeed him, he has always been very loyal to the institution, and Mr. Northcott felt that the community would receive the same service under Mr. Russell's management as under his own.

F. A. Geer will be the new superintendent and has been with the company over ten years. He is well known in Ontario and surrounding towns and is universally liked.

Mr. Northcott wishes to thank all the patrons of the Ontario Laundry for their support and patronage during his management.

Twenty-five members of the Upland Business and Professional Woman's Club were taken over the new San Antonio Community Hospital during the noon hour yesterday. Mrs. Caroline Vermilye, superintendent of the hospital, directing the tour, and explaining the many various interesting details in connection with the building.

Milly: "I hear your brother is playing on his college football team."

Lilly: "Yes, I think he said he was one of the draw-backs."

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR J. C. ROSEBAUM

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 in Draper's Upland Chapel for John Calvin Rosebaum, who died on Wednesday evening at his home, 128 Vernon Drive, after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Rosebaum was 48 years 6 months at the time of his death and had been a resident of Upland for the past 19 years.

Beside his widow, he leaves one daughter, Ruth Margaret, his mother, Mrs. Rosebaum, 1904 Euclid Avenue, and a brother, E. J. Rosebaum, all of Upland.

The Rev. C. E. Cornell of the Ontario Church of the Nazarene, and Bishop C. C. Burkholder of the Brethren in Christ Church, were in charge of the service, and interment was in Bellevue Cemetery.

Potatoes, cabbage, turnips and onions are easily grown in all parts of Alaska.
